Routine Childhood Immunizations during COVID-19 Pandemic

The COVID-19 pandemic continues to affect communities. By now, you're likely aware that government and public health officials are recommending that people do their best to stay at home to avoid contracting COVID-19, and you're probably doing just that. But it can be confusing to then get a call from your pediatrician's office reminding you about an upcoming appointment.

Maintaining childhood immunizations during this period is recommended by the American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP), the centers of Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and California Department of Public Health (CDPH).

If you are not sure what to do, call your pediatrician's office to see how important this particular visit is, and whether there are any immunizations needed.

The Greenville Rancheria has taken the necessary precautions and abide by the CDC guidelines for you, your child and our safety during this pandemic to be able to provide well child visits, preventative care and immunizations.

Our Pediatricians, medical and dental staff are here for you and your child during this COVID-19 pandemic. The COVID-19 pandemic is a reminder of the lifesaving power of vaccines. Remember to keep your children's vaccinations up to date. Please join us in promoting the importance of vaccinations and keeping up with important well-child visits and immunizations, as CDC Data shows that fewer children are receiving timely immunizations this year compared to last year. Declines in vaccination coverage can leave young children and communities vulnerable to otherwise preventable diseases like measles.

Call (530) 528-8600, Monday-Friday 8:00 am to 5:00 pm to schedule an appointment.

Think of it this way:

Getting a disease or getting a vaccine can both give you a future protection from that disease. The difference is that with the disease you have to get sick to get that protection, with the vaccine you don't. You always make sure to buckle your child in his/her car seat even though you don't expect to be in an accident.
